Preface

Welcome to Ashoka University!

The Student Handbook summarises the educational programme structure at Ashoka University as well as rules, regulations and policies that every student at Ashoka University is expected to adhere to. This is an easy guide to all necessary and important information that a student may need throughout their stay at Ashoka University.

It is mandated and expected of every student to read this handbook carefully and completely. This is a summary document meant to be a ready reference. Complete policy documents will be available to students through the myAshoka Portal. Upon reading this document completely, students will sign and date the Handbook Declaration, certifying that they have read and understood all their rights and responsibilities as a student at Ashoka University.

We wish you rich and rewarding years at Ashoka University!

A Word of Welcome from Dean, Academic Affairs

Dear Student,

I am delighted to welcome you to Ashoka University.

While my university days are a distant memory, I recall an excitement of entering a world of infinite possibilities. Of becoming an adult and being treated as one. Of diverse friendships with fellow students and teachers. Of self-discovery and transformation. The anticipation was tinged with anxiety as well – of entering an unfamiliar place, without the comforts of parents and old friends, of negotiating an uncertain world without the buffer of a high school structure.

Let me assure you, though, of the anxieties that you will not face – the pressures that come from an academic program that requires regurgitation of accepted canons. Ashoka academics is about foundations and first principles, it is about asking questions, it is about ceaseless engagement. It's fun. It's also hard – but in the right way. We don't think of the text, the image or the equation as remote dead objects. Seen differently, they would leap at you as your mind wraps around the ideas embedded in them.

Writing more than 80 years ago, John Maynard Keynes noted “The ideas of economists and political philosophers, both when they are right and when they are wrong, are more powerful than is commonly understood. Indeed the world is ruled by little else. Practical men, who believe themselves to be quite exempt from any intellectual influence, are usually the slaves of some defunct economist. Madmen in authority, who hear voices in the air, are distilling their frenzy from some academic scribbler of a few years back...”

At Ashoka we take ideas in all fields seriously – both for its own sake as well as for its hold on us. By understanding, investigating, and critiquing ideas, we hope, you will come up with some of your own and turn the received wisdom into thinking that is alive, fresh, collaborative, and dynamic. That is the promise of a liberal education.

With my best wishes,

Bharat Ramaswami
Dean, Academic Affairs

A Word of Welcome from Dean, Student Affairs

Dear Students,

Welcome to Ashoka and to the 2022-2023 academic year!

For those of you joining Ashoka for the first time, we are excited to celebrate you becoming a part of our vibrant, dynamic community.

For those of you returning to campus, I want to applaud your resiliency and adaptability during what had been the most unusual years in Ashoka's journey. You exceeded all expectations in prioritising the health and wellness of our community.

Given the current circumstances, Ashoka campus will keep working together to maintain health and safety standards, while sustaining the academic excellence and personalised attention that is synonymous with Ashoka education.

As the Dean of Student Affairs I am honored to have the opportunity to champion our students and help you navigate the Ashoka experience. I am eager to engage with you in meaningful ways.

My vision for the Office of the Student Affairs centers around two keystones: connection and care. We are committed to creating an inclusive and positive experience for all students. We are committed to helping you find your place at Ashoka, and to creating a community in which each of you can feel a sense of belonging.

The academic endeavours each of you are undertaking at Ashoka will be challenging at times. Almost all students need extra support at one time or another. The Office of Student Affairs is committed to normalising seeking help.

We are a community that supports one another, so please do not hesitate to reach out if you need extra support. Our robust network of services aims to support you holistically during your time on campus.

As a final point let me underscore that this year will not be without challenges, but I know we are all eager to have more opportunities for in-person engagement.

While most of the Ashoka community is vaccinated, we have learned over the past two years to moderate our expectations for the future. If we focus on connecting with one another and caring for one another, I am confident our community will thrive in the year ahead!

Welcome, once again, to the Ashoka experience.

Your success is central to our mission at this University.

Sincerely,

Dr Deboshruti Roychowdhury

Dean, Student Affairs

Academic Information

Course Structure

General degree requirements to complete a B.A./B.Sc.

Ashoka follows a credit-based system. Most academic courses are worth 4 credits each, Co-Curricular courses are worth 2 credits. To graduate with a Bachelor's degree from Ashoka University, you must:

- complete the requirements of a Major (as outlined below),
- complete 9 Foundation Courses (36 credits), including the Introduction to Critical Thinking course,
- complete 2 Co-Curricular Courses (=4 non-academic credits),
- have a Cumulative Grade Point Average (CGPA) ≥ 1.67 .

Ashoka distinguishes Pure Majors from Interdisciplinary Majors. To complete a Pure Major, you must earn a minimum of 96 academic credits and 4 non-academic credits overall. As part of these 100 credits, you must pass at least 12 courses (or more) in your Major subject (i.e. 48 academic credits or more; specifics depend on the chosen Major).

To complete an Interdisciplinary Major, you must earn a minimum of 112 academic credits and 4 non-academic credits overall. As part of these 116 credits, you must pass at least 16 courses (or more) in an approved interdisciplinary programme (i.e. 64 academic credits or more; specifics depend, again, on the chosen Major).

To reach your total credit requirement of 100/116 credits, you must complete a sufficient number of additional courses in any field – which may, of course, include that of your Major. Note that Co-Curricular courses yield non-academic credits. As such, Co-Curricular courses that you complete beyond the 2 mandatory ones do not count towards your total credit requirement or CGPA.

Workload per semester

The standard expected student workload at Ashoka University is 16 academic credits (typically: 4 full 4-credit courses).

In semester 1, you must take 4 academic courses: 4 Foundation Courses or, if required, a combination of Foundation Courses, Calculus Enabler, and English Communication. In addition, you may also take one Co-Curricular course.

In semesters 2-4, you may take up to 22 credits (i.e. five 4-credit courses and one 2-credit course, e.g. a Co-Curricular course) in a semester. Additional courses can also be taken in either or both of your summer semesters (you may complete up to 10 credits in a summer semester). From semester 5 onward, you may take up to 26 credits per semester. For details, see the UG Maximum Credits per semester policy at the my.ashoka.edu.portal.

In the semester at the end of which you are eligible to graduate, you may remain below the 16-credit requirement (but not below 12 credits) in case you need fewer credits to graduate. This is not automatically adjusted at registration. You still have to meet the minimum credits at the time of registration. But you may raise a request to the Office of Academic Affairs through AMS, requesting withdrawal from a course. Note, however, that going below minimum credits makes you ineligible for the Dean's list in that semester. For details, please see the UG Minimum Credits per semester policy on the my.ashoka.edu portal.

The Ashoka Scholars Programme

To complement your undergraduate education and complete the 4 years of college that make you eligible to apply, e.g., for post-graduate programmes in the U.S., we encourage you to sign up for the Ashoka Scholars Programme (ASP). The ASP is a 1-year programme that you can enroll in after your graduation in your Major subject or in case you have only a maximum of 8 academic credits left toward your undergraduate degree. To successfully graduate from the ASP, you need to complete 32 credits. The maximum course load per semester is 22 credits (5 regular courses plus one Co-Curricular course or one 2-credit Teaching Assistantship), the minimum course load is 12 credits (provided you will be able to complete your 32 credits by the end of the year). For details and eligibility requirements, consult the ASP website and the ASP Guidelines, which you can find on the my.ashoka portal, in the documents folder associated with the Office of Academic Affairs.

Credentials

As an undergraduate student, you can earn additional credentials apart from your Major:

- To earn a Minor in any given subject, you must take at least 24 academic credits (typically 6 courses) in any one of Ashoka's approved programmes outside your Major. Note that many programmes have specific requirements as to which courses to take.
- To earn a Concentration in any given subject, you must typically take at least academic 16 credits (typically 4 courses) in any one of Ashoka's approved programmes outside your Major. Again, many programmes have specific requirements as to which courses to take.

During the ASP year, you can earn additional credentials. You can, for instance,

- complete an Advanced Major by taking more courses in your Major subject in preparation for postgraduate study (which may involve a Capstone Thesis or Project), or
- complete a Second Major Equivalent (Pure or Interdisciplinary), or

- work on an Independent Capstone Thesis in a subject of your choice (provided you find an advisor who is both able and willing to supervise you), or
- expand your Major to an Interdisciplinary Major Equivalent,
- expand one of the component subjects of your Interdisciplinary Major to a Second Major Equivalent (where this option is offered), and
- complete Minors or Concentrations, either fresh ones or ones that you may have taken classes in already before your graduation. You can also simply
- use this extra year to take courses in a brand new discipline or any courses you like.

The 9 Foundation Courses (FCs)

Introduction to Critical Thinking (to be taken in the first or the second semester)
Indian Civilizations	Environmental Studies
Great Books	Economy, Politics, & Society
Literature and the World	Mathematical Thinking
Principles of Science	Mind and Behaviour

FCs are a signature item of the Ashoka education and every Ashoka undergraduate student must take all the 9 FCs listed. They introduce students to various styles of thinking and are frequently taught in an inter- and trans-disciplinary manner. As stated above, in your first semester, typically, four FCs will be pre-allocated to you, one of which may be the Introduction to Critical Thinking course. You may also select the Calculus Enabler course or be required to take the English Communication Course (see below). In general, students are advised to take the rest of their FCs early on so as to be exposed to various styles of thinking while still in the process of deciding what Major they want to pursue. That said, when you will be able to complete all of the FCs will also depend on the specific semester-wise requirements of your chosen Major.

Introduction to Critical Thinking (ICT)

Ashoka University requires you to take an Introduction to Critical Thinking (ICT) course. This core course is part of the Foundation Course series and will be assigned to you either in your first or in your second semester. Capped at a smaller number than other Foundation Courses, it is designed to help you develop your critical skills in reading, writing, analysis, and interpretation within the parameters of a specific subject. Like all Foundation Courses, the ICT does not count towards any Major requirement.

Calculus Enabler Course

If you consider majoring in Math, Physics, the interdisciplinary programme of Math & Computer Science, Computer Science, or in any other math-intensive programme, you are strongly advised to take the Calculus Enabler Course in your first semester, since it will enhance your ability to do well in these programmes. Taking this course is required for aspiring Math Majors and strongly recommended even for students who have studied calculus in school. (Note that the Calculus Enabler Course is not a Foundation Course and thus does not count toward the Foundation Course requirement.)

English Communication Courses

English Communication is a course offered by the Centre for Writing and Communication (CWC) to 1st year students in the Monsoon semester. You cannot opt for this course; it is assigned to you on the basis of need and after suitable evaluation through admissions and the CWC. The course focuses on English language learning and is designed to enhance your English language abilities and to prepare you for academic rigour in other courses.

The Intermediate English Communication Course offered in the Spring semester builds on the topics covered in the Monsoon semester and serves to further develop advanced English language skills and to improve your academic writing. This course is open only to those students to whom it has either been assigned or for whom it has been explicitly recommended, on the basis of need and after suitable evaluation through admissions and the CWC. Taking this course counts toward your Foundation Course (FC) requirements and thus entitles you to drop an FC of your choice - with the following exceptions: neither Environmental Studies nor Introduction to Critical Thinking can be dropped.

Majors

Your Major is the subject in which you will earn a Bachelor's degree – either a Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) or a Bachelor of Science (B.Sc.). You will be required to formally declare your Major by the end of your third semester. However, it will be in your best interest to start taking courses in potential Major subjects before you declare your Major. You can begin to take Major courses in your second semester. As noted above, you must complete at least 12 courses in a given subject (and in some programmes more) to complete a Pure Major in it and at least 16 courses to complete an Interdisciplinary Major. As stated above, the specifics are programme-dependent and details can be found on the websites of the relevant programmes and can be obtained from the respective departments.

Ashoka University offers Pure Majors in the following subjects:

Biology (B.Sc. Hons.)	Mathematics (B.Sc. Hons.)
Chemistry (B.Sc. Hons.)	Philosophy (B.A. Hons.)
Computer Science (B.Sc. Hons.)	Physics (B.Sc. Hons.)
Economics (B.A. Hons.)	Political Science (B.A. Hons.)
English (B.A. Hons.)	Psychology (B.Sc. Hons.)
History (B.A. Hons.)	Sociology/Anthropology (B.A. Hons.)

It also offers Interdisciplinary Majors in the following subjects:

Computer Science and Entrepreneurial Leadership (B.Sc. Hons.)	English and Media Studies (B.A. Hons.)
Economics and Finance (B.Sc. Hons.)	English and Performing Arts (B.A. Hons.)
Economics and History (B.A. Hons.)	History and International Relations (B.A. Hons.)
English and Creative Writing (B.A. Hons.)	Mathematics and Computer Science (B.Sc. Hons.)
Politics, Philosophy and Economics (B.A. Hons.)

Minors

We encourage you to consider declaring a Minor in addition to your Major. Completing 24 credits (typically six full 4-credit courses) in a subject outside your Major field of specialization qualifies for a Minor in that subject (note, however, that many programmes set up specific requirements with regards to which courses must be taken – consult their websites for details). Ashoka offers Minors in all Major subjects. In addition, it offers Minors in:

Creative Writing	Media Studies
Entrepreneurial Leadership and Strategy	Performing Arts
Environmental Studies	Sanskrit Studies
International Relations	Visual Arts
China Studies

Co-Curricular Courses

Every semester, Ashoka University offers several 2-credit Co-Curricular courses in Performing Arts, Visual Arts, and Languages. These normally meet in the evenings once a week for two hours. Co-Curricular courses are a mixture of practical training in an art form (fine arts and performing arts) or language (subcontinental and global) and critical analysis of that form's or language's aesthetic, social, political, economic, and historical dimensions.

You have to take 2 Co-Curricular Courses as part of your graduation requirements; in any semester, you can take a maximum of 1 Co-Curricular course. Note that you can take more than 2 Co-Curricular Courses, but that only 2 of them (i.e. 4 credit points) count towards your total credit requirement of 100 (or 116) credit points.

Co-Curricular Courses offered by Ashoka University have engaged with painting, sculpture, photography, film, theatre, music, dance, and languages both ancient and modern.

Independent Study Modules (ISMs)

In many (yet not all) departments, students may apply for an ISM with an instructor. An ISM allows one or more students to spend one full semester working with an instructor on a topic not otherwise offered in the department. ISMs typically yield 2 or 4 credits and must be defined in terms of clear requirements agreed upon by the student(s) and the instructor. Whether or not an ISM in a given area is made available to you depends entirely on whether a suitable instructor is available, able, and willing to take on this extra commitment. If and how ISMs count towards the various credentials in a given subject is decided by individual departments. The default maximum number of credits from ISMs that can count toward a student's undergraduate degree is 8 credits.

Teaching

Forms of Instruction

Ashoka University's 4-credit courses – Foundation Courses, Major, Minor, and elective courses – all involve a blended model of instruction. In the 4 weekly hours of classroom meetings for Foundation Courses, 3 hours are spent in Lecture Classes (usually 2 meetings, 1 ½ hours each), 1 hour is spent in Discussion Sessions; in Major, Minor, and elective Courses, 3 hours are spent in Lecture Classes and 1 hour in office hours or discussion sessions. Lecture Classes are taught by at least one faculty member. The Discussion Session is a tutorial led by a Teaching Fellow. Co-Curricular courses are typically a mixture of practical training and critical analysis through lecture and discussion. These classes meet once a week two hours at a time, are led by a Co-Curricular faculty member, and do not have Teaching Fellows.

Lecture Classes

Lecture Classes are course meetings of one and a half hours' duration led by a faculty member. During the 13 weeks in which classes are in session for the semester, students attend 3 hours of Lecture Classes a week for each course they are taking. Lecture Classes do not consist just of lectures; they usually involve substantial student participation, too. Ashoka University professors, for the most part, use what is known as the Socratic Method – asking students questions about the topic of the day and the set readings, and allowing the class to proceed through student participation. It is crucial, therefore, that students do all the reading assigned for that day's class as outlined in the course syllabus. This will require careful preparation and skills of time management in the days before each Lecture Class.

Discussion Sessions

Discussion Sessions are course meetings of one hour's duration each, led by Teaching Fellows. Students must attend 1 Discussion Sessions a week for each Foundation Course that they are taking and 1 Discussion Sessions per week for each other course they are taking that has Discussion Sessions assigned. Discussion Sessions are much smaller in size than Lecture Classes. The objective is to ensure that students have ample opportunity to talk about the ideas of the course in a peer-learning oriented environment. The Teaching Fellow may answer questions about the course materials, but they are there less to lecture than to facilitate dialogue and debate. Discussion Sessions may also require you to do extra readings as well as to complete in-class writing assignments that will serve as the basis of discussion.

Office Hours

In addition to the three hours of classroom time each week, dedicated office hours will also be offered by the faculty (and, where applicable, Teaching Fellows) for all the Major, Minor and ICT courses. The emphasis will be on addressing students' questions; meetings will usually be conducted during the faculty member's posted office hours.

Teaching Fellows and Teaching Assistants

Each Ashoka University undergraduate Foundation Course is taught by a professor aided by one or more Teaching Fellows (TFs). An Ashoka University TF has a number of responsibilities in a foundation course:

- Whereas the course professor presides over the larger scheduled lecture classes, the TF leads that course's weekly one-hour discussion sections.
- The TF holds regular weekly office hours to meet with students and talk with them about their written and classroom work.
- The TF attends all the lecture classes as well.
- TFs often help the faculty with course-related grading.

In many cases, major, minor and elective courses may also be assisted by TFs. Typically, the TF responsibilities are similar to those of Foundation Course TFs. However, in other cases, the model of engagement may vary depending on the needs of the subject.

Some courses also have Teaching Assistants (TAs). A Teaching Assistant is typically a student in their ASP year, sometimes an undergraduate student (rising 3rd year at the earliest), and typically earns 2 credits for their Teaching Assistantship. TAs have fewer responsibilities than TFs, are not required to teach Discussion Sections, and support the instructor with issues such as the distribution of materials, grading of quizzes (with answer keys), taking attendance, or class communication. Like TFs, TAs may be expected to attend all the classes.

Choosing your subjects

Choosing a Major

You will formally declare your Major only at the end of your third semester – i.e. half-way through your second year, around the time of registration for fourth semester courses. Even before the declaration of the Major, you will typically take courses towards what will become your Major subject.

Choosing a Minor or a Concentration

At the end of your third semester, you may also declare a Minor or a Concentration (or two, or both, depending on what you can fit in). Even before the declaration of the Minor or Concentration, you may take courses towards what will become your Minor or Concentration subject.

Mentoring and Advising

Academic mentoring and advising is designed to help you arrive at Ashoka, find your bearings in a new academic environment, help you make informed decisions about your course of studies, about Major and Minor explorations, and assist with maneuvering academic policies and procedures. Academic mentors and advisors may also assist you in identifying additional support services that can help you achieve academic success. Here is a selection of issues that you can receive help with:

- course selection
- academic planning
- changing Major, Minor, interdisciplinary and co-curricular study options
- withdrawal from a course
- course audits
- liaising with a faculty member
- referral to various student service units such as OLS or ACWB

Faculty Mentors

Upon joining Ashoka, a faculty member will be assigned to you as your Faculty Mentor. Your Faculty Mentor may be from any discipline and will serve as your first academic point of contact. Your Faculty Mentor may meet with individual students or with groups of students at a time to discuss matters relating to their general experience at Ashoka. Note that you have to meet with your Faculty Mentor before the end of the add/drop period in each of your first three semesters. You can request a change of Faculty Mentor anytime with the Office of Academic Affairs; such requests will always be granted.

Academic Advisors

Once you have formally declared your major, your formal relationship with your Faculty Mentor ends and you will be assigned a Major Advisor. Your Major Advisor is a faculty member from your Major subject and they will take over the duties of the Faculty Mentor. Given their academic expertise, your Major Advisor will also be able to provide you with more specific advice on your course of study in your Major subject.

Meeting with Advisors and Mentors

Faculty Mentors and Academic Advisors are available to speak with you during their office hours about how best to prepare for, and navigate, your preferred programme. They will meet with you at least once a semester, before the end of the add/drop period, to discuss possible course selections for the following semesters.

Advisors will reach out to you to schedule a meeting. Still, we strongly recommend that you be proactive and make appointments with your Advisors and Mentors in advance. You should come to advising appointments appropriately prepared. Bring, for example, a list of possible course selections. Do not expect your Advisor to select your courses for you: their role is to give you advice, not to micromanage your choices. In general, advising is a joint activity that, to be successful, requires collaboration on both sides.

Course Adjustment

You may add or drop or withdraw from a course in any semester, subject to certain deadlines and conditions or permissions.

	Add Course
Week 1	Add a course without permission
Week 2-4	Add a course only if instructor agrees
	Drop Course
Weeks 1-2	Self-drop without permission
Weeks 3-4	Drop with intimation of faculty
	Withdraw from Course
Weeks 4-8	Withdraw with intimation of faculty, a 'W' will show on the transcript
Week 9 and later	'W' with F (fail notation) or X (exceptional circumstances notation)

Note that you can only withdraw from a course if by doing so you do not drop below the minimum credit requirement per semester. Exceptions to this may only be requested from the second semester onward and require approval from the Office of Academic Affairs. Note that the timeline during the summer semesters varies from the one given here and is communicated separately.

Assignments, Examinations, and Grades

Assignments

There are many forms of assessed assignments at Ashoka University. These include (but are not limited to):

- essays
- projects
- in-class writings
- online discussion forum contributions
- oral presentations
- quizzes

Because most courses use continuous assessment, missed assignments will adversely affect your final grade. Please note also that in-class participation usually counts for a significant portion of your final grade; not contributing to class discussions and/or missing classes will also have a negative impact on your final grade for the course.

Examinations and Grading System

Some (but not all) courses will have final examinations scheduled for examination week. The examination and its form are at the discretion of the professor.

Grading System

For every course, you will receive a final letter grade. These grades are calibrated with GPA quality points. The grid below shows how Letter Grades and GPA Quality Points relate:

Letter Grade	GPA Quality Points
A	4.0
A-	3.7
B+	3.3
B	3.0
B-	2.7
C+	2.3
C	2.0
C-	1.7
D+	1.3
D	1.0

Auditing courses

Students in their first semester cannot audit courses. In the summer, no course can be audited. Starting in your second semester, you may audit up to two courses per semester. Auditing a course does not yield credits, but will show on your transcript and requires that you submit work as determined by the faculty member. If you wish to audit a given course, you must submit an audit request to the faculty through the portal. Note that faculty members typically limit the number of auditing students that they allow in their classroom and that granting audit requests is at the discretion of individual faculty members only. Students may withdraw, without consequence, from a course that they audit by the end of week 4. Those who drop an audit after week 4 will get a WAU on their transcript.

Audit-to-Credit conversion

If you have been granted permission to audit a course, it may happen that you want to take the course for credit. It cannot be guaranteed that this will be possible. Especially, note that students who have been on the waiting list to take the course for credit will be allowed to take the course for credit first. Only if there is no further student on the waiting list or once the waiting list has been disabled can you request a change in status. If you want to change your status from audit to credit, you must send a request to the Office of Academic Affairs and will also need permission from the faculty. In principle, no such requests will be granted past week 4 of a regular semester.

Credit-to-Audit conversion

If in the course of the semester you realize that you have taken on too much, wish to drop a course for credit, but still want to be part of the course and engage with it, you can request to convert your status from enrolled for credit to enrolled for auditing. The deadline for doing this is tied to the deadline for opting for the Pass/Fail option (see below): end of week 8. You cannot convert your status in a course to auditing status past that deadline and you cannot convert any course from credit to audit if by doing so you would fall below your minimum credit requirements.

Pass/Fail Policy

At most twice during your undergraduate studies, you may opt for a Pass/Fail evaluation in a given course. You can opt for this kind of evaluation until the end of week 8 in any regular semester, but only for maximally one course in a semester. Students who opt for P/F will receive either a P, which signals a passing grade, or an F, in case they fail the course. Details concerning the Pass/Fail Policy can be found on the my.ashoka portal, in the documents section of the Office of Academic Affairs. The timeline for the summer semester varies from this one and is communicated separately.

Dean's List

In every regular semester, undergraduate students who have completed at least 16 undergraduate academic credits in a given semester, who have not taken a Pass/Fail option in that semester, and whose GPA in that semester is ≥ 3.65 make the Dean's List in that semester. Similarly, students in their ASP year who have completed 16 credits counting toward the ASP in a given semester, have not taken a Pass/Fail option in that semester, and whose GPA in that semester is ≥ 3.65 make the Dean's List. The semesters in which a student makes the Dean's List will be marked on the transcript and students who make the Dean's List by the end of the regular semester will be notified about this by the Dean of Academic Affairs.

Latin Honours

Based on the CGPA calculated for your courses taken at Ashoka during your undergraduate studies, you may be awarded one of the following Honours upon graduation:

CUM LAUDE (CGPA ≥ 3.60)

MAGNA CUM LAUDE (CGPA ≥ 3.75)

SUMMA CUM LAUDE (CGPA ≥ 3.90)

Incomplete

Students who due to extraordinary circumstances cannot complete their course work in a given semester may request their faculty to grant them an Incomplete grade. This Incomplete grade appears as an I on the student's provisional transcript and incurs the commitment to submit missing work by a time determined by the faculty member. Unless an earlier date has been determined by the faculty member, the latest date by which such work must be submitted is the end of Week 6 of the next regular semester. Once faculty have evaluated the missing work, they will convert the I into a suitable letter grade. An Incomplete for which missing work has not been turned in by the date determined by the faculty member (or, if nothing in particular has been determined, by the end of Week 6 of the next regular semester) will automatically convert into a failing grade. Whether or not an Incomplete is granted to a student and how much of an extension is granted to the student is fully at the discretion of the faculty member. A student cannot graduate with an Incomplete grade on their transcript. For more details, see the relevant policy on the my.ashoka.edu portal.

Re-taking Courses

During your undergraduate studies and your ASP year, you can retake a course if the grade you received in that course was F.

Students may also repeat a course in which they receive a passing grade (D- or above). However, this option can be exercised for a maximum of two times during the UG program and once during the ASP program. Furthermore, if the student has opted for the P/F grading option and receives a grade of P, then the course cannot be repeated.

Among your attempts, the best one is counted; the others will remain on your transcript, but will not count toward your CGPA. Note, if in your last semester, you pass a course and if this still allows you to graduate, then you cannot defer your graduation to retake that course. In other words, if in your last semester, you can graduate, you must do so.

Attendance Policy

Promptness and regular class attendance are expected of all students and the University expects each student to take full responsibility for their academic work and academic progress. Students can take up to three absences from a class without providing any documentation. If students exceed these three absences, the attendance policy of the respective instructor comes into force. Attendance policies will vary across departments and instructors. Some may not take attendance, others may require it and impose sanctions, including failure of the course, if a certain number of absences is exceeded. Students are thus advised to make sure they understand the various attendance requirements governing their various courses.

In case of exceptional circumstances having to do with family crises or mental health concerns, students are advised to reach out to the Ashoka Center for Well-Being and, via Ashoka's Academic Management System (AMS), place a request to the Office of Academic Affairs, who will assist them and try to mediate in their communications with faculty where required.

Students who represent Ashoka in any capacity (e.g. as athletes or artists in competition or for extra-curricular and inter-university events on and off campus) must route their request for absences through the appropriate channels. Athletes write to sports@ashoka.edu.in, other students, groups, clubs, and societies send an email to the Student Life Office (life@ashoka.edu.in), giving the details of the event with date, name of professor, and course details. Such requests must be submitted way ahead of the event, ideally about 2 weeks prior. While they are encouraged to support students who represent Ashoka (maximally 4 absences) by excusing them, the final decision regarding the handling of such absences lies with the individual faculty members. Students are in turn advised to use their three excused absences for such events wherever possible.

Leave of Absence

In extraordinary circumstances, it may become necessary for you to take a leave of absence (LOA). If you find yourself in such circumstances, you must submit your request for a LOA to the OAA. You can be granted a maximum of 3 LOAs during the first three years of your undergraduate studies. For further details, please consult the Leave of Absence Policy on the my.ashoka portal, which can be found in the documents section associated with the Office of Academic Affairs.

Academic Integrity Policy

Writing that borrows from another person's work without appropriate acknowledgment challenges the academic integrity of a university community. Clear attribution and acknowledgement of authorship and sources is a practice that Ashoka University seeks to inculcate in its students. Completing a workshop on academic integrity is mandatory for students in their first semester. Violating Academic Integrity is a serious offence, must be reported, may become a part of your permanent file, may show on your transcript, and is generally met with severe disciplinary action. You may also be required to complete a refresher workshop on academic integrity. Note that you cannot graduate if for you, such a mandatory workshop is pending. Details regarding Ashoka's handling of academic misconduct can be found in the Academic Integrity Policy, which is available in the documents section associated with the Office of Academic Affairs on the my.ashoka portal.

We encourage you to explore plagiarism.org, an excellent website that can help understand plagiarism and also do a first-level self-check. The University's Centre for Writing and Communication will also help you understand the difference between citation and paraphrase and adopt standard academic norms of referencing.

Late Graduates

The regular duration during which students are expected to complete their undergraduate degree is three years. That said, in accordance with UGC regulations, a student must graduate within five years. Only in exceptional cases, the Vice-Chancellor may approve an extension to a sixth year. UG students who need to continue beyond the third year to complete their degree requirements must have completed a minimum of 36 credits. If they fail to meet this requirement, their student status stands revoked and they must leave the university. For more details, see the Minimum Credit Policy for UG students on the my.ashoka.edu portal.

Office of Academic Affairs

The Office of Academic Affairs (OAA) will facilitate and assist with a whole range of academic functions, including:

- course planning
- (pre-) registration for classes
- class schedules and grade functions
- scheduling academic classes
- processing student requests relating to: Leave of Absence (LOA), early exit, withdrawal for exceptional reasons (WX), update of student's particulars such as change in Major, Minor, or Concentration, Incompletes, Independent Study Modules and Audit
- assignment of Mentors and Advisors
- graduation and degree check

The OAA will play a pivotal role in advising you and in assisting you as you navigate your academic pathway towards completing your undergraduate degree. For your queries, you are welcome to walk in during office hours, make up an appointment through the AMS or raise a ticket through the AMS.

Academic Societies

Ashoka University has many academic societies which are set up and managed by the students. These, as the names suggest, cater to specific academic interests and are mentored by faculty with expertise in that area. Every year, both the best academic society and the most enterprising academic society are awarded an annual merit award. Please feel free to join an academic society (or more) by writing an email to the given id. The guidelines governing Academic Societies can be found in the documents section associated with the Office of Academic Affairs on the my.ashoka portal.

Global Education & Strategic Partnerships (GESP)

Global Education & Strategic Partnerships (GESP)

The Office of Global Education & Strategic Partnerships (GESP) provides students with a range of programmes, services and resources to support them as they pursue their degrees at Ashoka University. GESP spearheads all international partnerships for the university, working with prospective institutions to negotiate, develop, build and manage these partnerships. It provides a variety of opportunities for students to explore international programmes through study abroad, summer programmes, research and numerous enrichment programmes through the wide variety of partnerships that the university has with international schools.

GESP comprises of the Office of International Programmes which oversees global mobility for students and the Desk for Graduate Programmes that helps with the graduate studies information and application process.

Office of International Programmes

The Office of International Programmes provides extensive information, advising and mentorship to students who want to study abroad either in the summer or for a semester. Ashoka University encourages first years to start planning their international experience that may best suit their academic and personal growth. These international opportunities serve to further enhance the learning experience and allow students to take on new academic challenges. If a student wishes to explore study abroad, research, or other academic/enrichment endeavours, they can choose from a range of opportunities offered through Ashoka University's international partnerships and other schools globally.

There is an application process which requires pre-approval from academic advisors/Deans/heads of departments of their major/minor/concentration to select courses or programmes that are a good fit for student at Ashoka University. Credits for courses done at universities abroad can be transferred and must be approved before the programme begins. Please read carefully the UG Study Abroad Policy (to be found on AMS) that lays out the rules and regulations for credit transfer through a study abroad programme. For more information, contact: studyabroad@ashoka.edu.in GESP hosts the visiting students programmes wherein a number of students from international schools come take courses at Ashoka in the summer and during the semesters. This opens up prospects for Ashoka students to study with international students, thus giving them an experience of global learning.

Joint Course Offering during the Summer semester: In some years a joint course is offered with a partner university that Ashoka University students can take for credit. In the summer of 2018, a joint course was offered between Stanford University and Ashoka University called, “Mega Cities: Many Lives of Delhi” where students from both universities had a joint learning experience. A second joint course that has been held since 2018 is with Princeton University is on Democracy & Contemporary Indian Politics. The learnings from the course extends beyond classrooms in the form of social and cultural immersion. In 2022 a joint course was offered with Northeastern University, USA on Community-based Research: Power, Ethics, and Representation. This course provided students with the opportunity to apply their emerging research skills to develop research questions and collect data together with community partners.

Desk for Graduate Programmes: Through this desk GESP organizes Graduate Studies Information Sessions that offers useful information and insights into the graduate studies application process. Special sessions are held to provide tips to strengthen graduate applications, write SOPs, request letters of recommendations (LORs) and information on various Masters and PhD programmes in India and abroad. It offers overall assistance with the graduate admission navigation process. For more information please contact: graduate.studies@ashoka.edu.in GESP also offers many opportunities for UG students to work with the team in social media, communications, outreach, international partnerships and more. For more information please contact: gesp.office@ashoka.edu.in

Student Affairs

Student Life | Residence Life | Sports & Exercise

The Office of Student Affairs drives student experience outside the classroom. It is aimed towards making the university life of students enriching and well-rounded. Student Affairs cultivates and promotes student learning and development, with a strong commitment towards diversity, inclusion and mutual respect; physical and mental wellbeing; cultural enrichment and creating opportunities for student empowerment.

Vision

Student Affairs at Ashoka University envisions new learners, leaders, active global citizens and pioneers of change in its students. We aspire to create a new generation of student learners and leaders who are exposed to critical thinking, become effective communicators, pursue innovations, inculcate a spirit of community service and strive for excellence.

Mission

With a web of extracurricular programmes, Student Affairs works to strike a fine balance between keeping the students engaged in activities that are both fun and intellectually challenging. The Office practices an “open door” policy for students and actively addresses any issues, concerns, questions, and ideas from the student body. In its endeavour to promote responsible citizenship, the Office underscores and inculcates the values of responsible, ethical and civil exercise of rights and privileges. The Office strongly believes in the potential of the student body and in the diversity of thoughts and opinions from students, which are critical to building an institution of liberal education.

The Pillars of Student Affairs

Student Affairs at Ashoka University comprises of Student Life Office, Residence Life Office, Sports & Exercise Office, and Student Success Office. Through these very significant and strong components that make up Student Affairs, the Office works towards creating a robust learning and living environment outside the classroom. Each of these branches occupies and crafts intellectually stimulating spaces in their own right. Be it the creative and extracurricular domain of Student Life; the active and invigorating space of the Sports fields; or the ingeniously curated Halls of Residence – each one provides scope and potential for harnessing their skills and talents in a wide sphere of learning.

Welcome to this world, where the classroom goes far beyond the walls of physical space; where learning takes place under the bright blue Sonapat skies; where learning takes place within the spaces we reside in; where learning takes place on the sports fields; where learning takes place at music and dance studios and in the art room; where learning takes place amidst the greens and soil at the kitchen garden right next to the Residence Halls! Where learning has no boundaries but only waits for us to create our own and more!

Student Success Office

The University is introducing a new vertical dedicated to student success within the Office of Student Affairs. The Student Success Office (SSO) will be responsible for nurturing a campus environment poised for comprehensive student excellence. It will be committed towards supporting the students reach their full potential, both inside and outside the classroom. This Office will seek to address any unmet needs of students in a timely manner through various flagship initiatives such as the First Scholar Programme, Residential Study Programme etc.

Marquee Events

Merit Awards

The Merit Awards are guided by the spirit of positive reinforcement and healthy competition. We believe that excellence is achieved by inclusion and not exclusion by way of ranking. The awards are rooted in the philosophy of recognizing merit in every person, who by way of stepping out of their comfort space and pushing boundaries, have been able to contribute towards an enriching and inspiring campus experience for all. The broad spectrum of categories and subcategories for the awards (outlined in the policy) is intended to create a plateau instead of a peak of achievements.

The Series - Trailing Passions and Life Journeys

‘Living the dream’ is a common phrase we all wish we could apply to our lives. All of us strive to achieve our dreams, but until we get there we continue to wonder what it is like to do what we love and succeed at it. Hearing stories from such individuals is often motivation enough to keep on the path to our dreams. The Series is an endeavour where one will bear witness to the stories and experiences of individuals who had the good fortune of excelling at their passions. Having lived their dreams, the stories may just nudge you toward the path to yours.

Student Life

The Student Life Office drives the extra-curricular engagements, and student development programmes of the University which range from creative and performative arts, leadership and training opportunities, experiential learning, volunteering opportunities, driving student-led programmes and more. By championing, guiding and encouraging student organisations, clubs and societies, initiatives and events, the Office promotes maximum student participation and involvement in campus life. Through its various programmes and activities, the Office strives to provide students with the best of opportunities.

The various programmes and initiatives of the Office aim to help students appreciate the intricate connection between human life and its socio-cultural fabric, thus enriching student relationships between each other and the world around them.

Get Involved, Hone Your Passion and Create

At Ashoka University, when not occupied with academics, students will find themselves immersed in pursuing their hobbies and interests through clubs and societies! These give students an ocean of opportunities to contribute and enrich their campus experience culturally and intellectually. Ranging from music, dance and gaming to community engagement, language, creative writing, photography, culinary and much more, students may choose from amongst the array of 39 existing clubs and societies functioning on campus, and also initiate their own! Students may refer to the clubs and societies directory at the end of this Handbook.

A ‘Club’ is a focused group working towards a specific field of interest. A ‘Society’ is an umbrella organisation which has under it two or more clubs. These clubs have diverse interests and pursuits with a common objective and focal interest area that affiliates them to a single domain and binds them together.

Club formation entails a proposal submission based on the guidelines released by the Office and subsequent grant of approval by the Office. An initiative that is completely student-led and driven, the inception of a club is an outcome of intense deliberations by students, through a process that demands rigour and precision akin to research. Each approved club/society should be able to “lead out” and “reach out” in order to contribute meaningfully toward creating a diverse and vibrant campus culture.

The Clubs get ample opportunity to showcase their talents through annual traditions created by the Office such as Jashn-e-Jazba (a platform for clubs to provide a sneak-peak into what they do); Annual Production Fortnight (a year end mega-event) where clubs bring to the fore their creative work that the year’s hard work and passion have culminated with; Clubs and Societies Fair, interuniversity events and other regular activities. They are, therefore, expected to be very proactive on community programming so as to sustain their “active” status. All approved clubs/societies are evaluated through an appraisal process carried out by the Student Life Office. Every approved club/society is also allotted a seed budget, which may be earned through a system of grants. The Student Life Office wants our clubs and societies to be able to hone their passions and also excel in them. We are committed to providing full support and encouragement to them through mentorship, training, infrastructure and financial support.

Participate and Learn Through Experiential Opportunities

Safarnama

‘Safarnama’ is an initiative that aims to provide an opportunity to Ashokans to explore Delhi, Haryana as well as other cities: their art, music, theatre, cuisines, monuments and much more! All of us have our own unique experiences of each city and it means different things to different people. Safarnama seeks to give every explorer their own special reasons to explore these cities.

As a city with diverse pasts, Delhi has not only seen the rise and fall of great empires but has also been at the heart of the nation-building process in independent India. This city with its distinct historical past and rich cultural heritage is an interesting amalgamation of modernity and tradition, past and present, old and new, local and global. Safarnama aims to capture this unique juxtaposition of Delhi, through the various tours that will be conducted under its ambit. Each tour aims to explore Delhi through a distinct lens; its historical monuments, its rich heritage, its flora and fauna, its mouth-watering cuisines, its bustling markets and the way in which Delhi is lived by its inhabitants, every single day.

Some of the tours that have been conducted so far from campus include: ‘Trees of Delhi’ by environmentalist Pradip Krishen, Food Walk in Chandni Chowk with Sohail Hashmi, ‘Birds of Delhi’ in Okhla Bird Sanctuary & Sultanpur National Park, Museums of Delhi, Exploring ‘Mini-Bengal’ of Delhi, ‘Quila-e-Kuhna’ mosque at Purana Quila, ‘Surajkund Mela’, ‘Dilli Haat’, a walk at Mehrauli Archaeological Park and a ‘Walk with Djinns of Delhi’ in the ruins of Ferozeshah Kotla Fort. Special outstation trips to Mahmudabad Fort to experience decadent cuisines and ceremonies have also been organised.

Haats

Ashoka University, located in Sonapat Haryana organises a cultural expansion event in the form of a 'Haat', to acquaint our multicultural students hailing from diverse backgrounds, with experiences and realities of local Haryanvi cultural heritage. Educative, informative and interactive; these 'Haats' aim to indulge students and staff in a cultural and social evolvment blending them with the Haryanvi heritage by showcasing artisans, food stalls, craftsmanship etc. From the durry workers of Panipat to artisans of the Khadi Ashram, the famous Pyaarelal Pedawala to the signature jalebis of Maturam Halwai, from our potters of Asawarpur to beautiful bangles from the chudiwali, it is a platform for students to witness, the indigenous spirit of Haryana. The 'Haat' encourages hands-on interaction between the local artisans and the students, to build a mutual relationship and appreciate the Haryanvi heritage and also participate in making the artefacts by themselves.

Baithaks

This programme has been conceptualised and envisioned to create a non-stage forum, centered on performing arts and conversations that intend to engage, listen and speak with the audience. With this format, Baithak aims to bridge the insurmountable divide between the audience and the performer. The Baithaks range from beginning a dialogue on relevant issues around us, to simply soaking in the creative churning of an art form such as poetry, dance, theater, storytelling etc. The programme was launched in the year 2018 and has organised multiple Baithaks since then including but not limited to Kathak Mehfil by Ishwari Despande, 'Love Expressed....' by Dilip Shankar and Mandakini Goswami, 'Sattriya Bela' by the Majuli Monks of Assam, 'Ek Baar Ki Baat Hai' by 'Jashn - e - Qalam', Vilasini Natyam by Purvadhanashree and Leather puppetry by B. Muthuchandran.

Volunteer, Work and Give Back

The Student Life Office has a few other channels too for student contribution and participation. The Office recruits volunteers throughout the year for the entire gamut of the programmes that it does. It is for students to choose their area of interest and they will be on board for this creative journey! Paid internship opportunities are floated to students, who wish to work on certain projects of the Office. These are opportunities for students to create traditions and concepts based on novel ideas that they might bring to the table. The Office has also recruited student entrepreneurs and programmers, to create certain tools towards technical sophistication in functioning. These are some, but not all the opportunities that students might find throughout their “student life” at Ashoka University.

Enjoy and Enrich

At Ashoka University, “Education” is not confined to degrees and grades! Learning – that is marked by quality and depth of knowledge – is part of the accomplishment, which adds excellence to the education here. Awareness of and engagement with different kinds of art and cultural activities gives one a complete picture of the world around, and more importantly, a complete understanding of one’s own self. Some of the stalwarts of their fields and disciplines whom the community have witnessed on Campus so far, include - Pandit Vishwa Mohan Bhatt, environmentalist Pradip Krishen’s “Wild Tours” with students, exploration of issues around gender through movement art with danseuse Mirra Arun, Dhrupad by maestro Padma Shri Ustad Wasifuddin Dagar, Thumris by Padma Shri Shubha Mudgal, Kathak recital by Padma Shri Shovana Narayan, pottery workshop by an indigenous artisan from the neighbouring village, music concert by Rabbi Shergil, Solo Theatre performance by Anant Dayal, “Partition Project” by Sonam Kalra, Sufi music by the Niyazi Brothers, “Women on Record” by Vidya Shah, folk traditions by the Manganiyars from Rajasthan, Bhangra by Jumma Yogi Khan, Pandvani by Padma Vibhushan Teejan Bai, Raagini: Haryanvi Kissagoi, Dastan-e-Goi, dance maestros Leela Samson and Justin McCarthy (also a faculty member)– and many more! Expect to be exposed to a myriad of cultural forms ranging from folk to classical to fusion. Not only this, but the Office also programs various creative workshops such as recycling, survival cooking, photography, pottery, gardening etc.

Through such a vibrant and syncretic programme palette, the Office aspires to bring a synergy of cultures, traditions, experiences and opportunities to the student’s doorstep; thus, making these precious years of their University life memorable with moments of awakening new sensibilities and taste.

Get Supported

As students at Ashoka University, individuals will be encouraged to initiate their own projects and/or participate in the wide range of extra-curricular activities buzzing on campus. Be it running a club, working as an elected member of the Student Government, taking along a diverse team, in short, simply being a dynamic student in all spheres of their “student life” at Ashoka University – the Office will help them to effectively carry out the various responsibilities and projects that they undertake. With a variety of sessions conducted throughout the year, here is a glimpse into what these largely entail.

Workshops, Lecture-Demonstrations and Guest Sessions

A basket of multifarious workshops, demonstrative sessions, and talks by experts – these sessions are meant to stimulate creative interests and unravel the artist in each student. These sessions cater to a gamut of disciplines and art forms – some often used as media to discover and appreciate issues of socio-political relevance, thus, harnessing not only the artist in them but helping them develop into conscientious, aware and mindful citizens.

Club and Society Mentorship Programme

Training and support that is ongoing through the year, the leadership and members of approved clubs and societies interact and meet with the mentors from the Office on a regular basis. The meetings are used to pilot planning of club/society activities, brainstorming and troubleshooting, thus creating an active and vibrant culture on Campus.

Office Hours

Members of the Student Life Office are available to meet and interact with our students. Be it a conversation or thought students wish to share, an initiative students wish to propose, a problem students wish to seek assistance for or anything else that students wish to have a patient hearing for... the office members are all ears! The Office has a systematic procedure for booking appointments with anyone that students wish to meet. The Office looks forward to having students visit them over the course of their academic years at Ashoka University.

Townhalls

The Student Life Office convenes townhalls every quarter of the academic year for regular and effective communication with all clubs and societies. These townhalls are open to all bonafide students of Ashoka University.

Creative Spaces

The Student Life Office also brings to students a host of physical spaces for a variety of creative pursuits. While a fully equipped and functional Music Studio will help students record and produce their own music, the Art Room will allow students to chase their artistic pursuits. The Music Room hones a host of musicians, vocal and instrumental alike. The Student Commons is a space that has been thoughtfully curated for the purpose of study, discussion, public speaking, student meetings and debates. It is an expanse that has been creatively thought out in terms of placement, design and interiors, to allow for the various intellectually and creatively stimulating activities that students can pursue in their learning, outside the classroom.

Residence Life

Residence Life at Ashoka University welcomes students to a community of diverse and talented scholars, residing in a close-knit and dynamic learning environment. The Residence Life Office is dedicated to creating a safe and vibrant residential experience for students on Campus. The fundamental role and responsibility of students in this regard are to familiarise themselves with Ashoka University Residence Life Policies. As members of a residential community, students are expected to uphold a high standard of character and take responsible ownership of their actions within campus premises. Please be aware that as the campus culture grows and develops in the coming years, all policies may be reviewed, revised and updated.

We look forward to the civil and congenial participation of students in the Residence Life experience on campus.

Who is Who in Residence Life

The Residence Life Office is managed through the efforts of a robust team of staff. The descriptions of their position are as below:

The Residence Life Office is led and overseen by the Associate Director who is responsible for maintaining discipline alongside, providing pastoral care and support within the Halls of Residence. The efforts of the Associate Director are supported by the dynamic programme and executive teams. The program team comprises of Assistant Director and Assistants. The executive team consists of the Senior Wardens, Wardens, and Assistants. Together, they are all responsible for providing an inclusive, safe, positive, and comfortable residential experience to students.

Each residential building is staffed by at least one executive team member from the Residence Life Office. Their primary role is to manage the student check-in and check-out process, respond to emergencies and disciplinary infractions, manage building infrastructure, coordinate in-hall housekeeping, and maintenance staff, and conduct business necessary to the well-being of the student community. Concerns about Residence Life policies, sources of conflict in the hall, conduct, infractions, or building infrastructure should be reported first to the Warden, before reaching out to the Associate Director.

Room and Roommate

At the beginning of the academic year, room allotment is made on a twin-sharing basis for the entire academic year as per the building-level assignments approved by the University. For emergency preparedness, the University needs to know the room assignment of each student living in campus housing. Students therefore may not change rooms or roommates without official authorisation.

Each resident is responsible for completing a Room Condition Form and submitting it to their respective Warden by the specified deadline communicated upon check-in. Students are responsible for keeping their rooms in good order and condition throughout their residency in order to comply with residential codes as well as to minimize deterioration of the facility.

It is prohibited to alter any campus property (such as removing furniture from the room) issued to a student as part of their housing. Painting, applying decals, and otherwise cosmetically altering the furnishings are not permitted. Defacing walls, doors, and common areas with any write-ups, sketches and drawings are strictly prohibited, and those found in violation will be liable for disciplinary action. Rooms will be assessed before check-in and after check-out to tabulate alterations, losses or damages. Any costs incurred for the purposes of repair or replacement will be billed to the student's account.

Roommates are decided by the University with the help of relevant information provided by the students themselves through the Roommate Matching Form for incoming students. Returning students are allowed to choose their preferred roommates by indicating the same in the Roommate Preference Form shared by the Residence Life Office at the beginning of each academic year. All students are expected to room with students from within their own batch. If a student ceases to have a roommate at the beginning of or during the academic year, Residence Life Office reserves the right to assign another student with prior notification to the student concerned.

All students are expected to collect, fill out and submit the Roommate Agreement Form to the RA at the beginning of every academic year to best address possible sources of conflict later. A single occupancy room can never be made available for a student(s) to resolve a roommate conflict.

Resident Rights

As a stressful living environment can affect a student's academic performance and emotional well-being, Ashoka University is committed to ensuring that certain basic rights and duties are binding upon all students. These are -

1. The right to privacy
2. The right to free and uninhibited access to the allotted room at all times

Residence Life Community Programmes

The Residence Life Programme at Ashoka comprises a wide variety of vibrant social, educational, recreational and cultural programmes that are run and led by the Residence Life Staff and students. These Residence Life Programmes are centered around the core values and principles of civic responsibility, citizenship, empathy, respect, diversity, inclusion, self-care, health, and wellness. The focus of these programmes is to help foster a sense of community among residents giving them ample opportunities to meet, interact, bond and have fun together.

The Resident Assistantship Programme

Resident Assistants (RAs) are paraprofessionals who live on a floor with 40-70 residents, managing critical administrative tasks as well as the primary responsibility of responding to the personal needs of these residents. Their unique positions, as quasi-staff members within the Residence Halls, allow them to act as a force for positive change in the lives of the students with whom they interact.

The RA Programme aims to create an inclusive living environment in the Halls of Residence and works towards fostering an environment that embraces diversity and actively values the dignity and self-worth of all members of the community. This is done by the RAs through various active community programming efforts on the floor and across the Residence Halls, regular one-on-one office hours, periodic floor meetings etc. The RAs also plan and host a plethora of social and educational activities for residents, thus, enabling a positive living environment in the Residence Halls. These range from events addressing issues of gender & sexuality and self-care to floor cook-offs and game nights to name a few.

The Resident Assistant Coordinators (RACs) along with the RA Mentors supervise and manage the RA Programme. The RACs work in tandem with the Dean, Student Affairs and the Associate Director (Residence Life Office) to develop the RA Programme as a whole. The RACs also serve as mentors to students, and are available during selected business hours to discuss concerns related to Residence as well as Campus Life.

Dorm Olympics

Dorm Olympics is one of the biggest and most sought-after events organised in the Residence Halls. It began in 2016 with the hope of building the feeling of togetherness and community in a fully residential campus. The sixth edition of the Dorm Olympics, held virtually in March of 2022, was a huge success with the participation of over 500 Ashokans. The event saw participation from all constituencies of the University including students, administration and support staff. Some of the competitive events organised as part of Dorm Olympics include Donuts in a String, Cow Drop, Pani Puri Eating Competition.

These conversations cover a wide range of subjects such as fitness and nutrition, life after college, safety on substances, sleep problems, safe sex practices, reproductive health, bullying, everyday sexism, sexual harassment, and much more. By inviting faculty, staff and experts, the series aims to demystify and destigmatise these subjects, allowing for open, free-flowing conversations. Their aim is twofold- one of creating opportunities for empathetic listening and awareness; the other enabling students in dealing with real-life challenges and situations towards making an informed choice.

The Great Ashokan Weekend

The Great Ashokan Weekend was initiated with the purpose of facilitating student interaction with staff and faculty in a fun and informal setting. Each event of the great Ashokan Weekend is designed as a walk-through of the campus moving between key landmarks on the premises. Despite being held online, the event saw active participation from faculty, staff and students in 2021. Some of the events organised as part of the Great Ashokan Weekend were Obscure Book Title, Treasure Hunt, Ashoka Pictionary, Costume in Character and Mix and Match.

True transformation can only take place when students are able to push themselves out of their comfort zone. This process demands learning more about themselves before they even attempt to change anything around them.

We channelise sports to enable students in learning and honing life skills and values such as discipline, mutual respect, punctuality, camaraderie, leadership, teamwork, mental and emotional balance. Trivedi Centre for Political Data

The Trivedi Centre for Political Data is a research centre that aims at promoting data-driven research, policy work and journalism on India's political life, by producing and disseminating in open access, scientifically collected and treated political data. It also aims at improving the quality of existing public data by developing and providing access to web-based tools adapted to Indian public data. The Centre seeks to enhance knowledge and understanding about political processes and dynamics by conducting research on the basis of the data collected, in partnership with individual scholars or academic institutions. Some of its projects include women participation and representation, the profiling of India's political class, contentious politics, social media analysis or the tracking of Indian politicians' careers.

Centre for Social and Behaviour Change

The Centre for Social and Behaviour Change (CSBC) is a research centre at Ashoka University that designs impactful behaviour change interventions for people and communities in need. We advance the science and practice of behaviour change, harnessing cross-disciplinary expertise in the areas of nutrition, sanitation, maternal health, family planning, and financial services. CSBC executes this vision through behavioural change programmes, foundational research, and capability building in partnership with other academic institutions, state and national governments, and think tanks.

There are many ways for Ashoka undergraduates to get involved with us. We guide and mentor the Ashoka Students Behavioural Insights Team (AsBIT), helping them design and run research projects in behavioural science. We also host regular sessions with eminent behavioural scientists and organise experiential learning programmes in behavioural science that are open to undergraduates.

Centre for Economic Data and Analysis

CEDA seeks to foster an informed debate on socio-economic changes in India with the help of data-rich analysis. CEDA seeks to fulfil its mission in two ways: with the help of its data repository that is accessible to, and usable for researchers, students, policy advocates, teachers, and journalists, and by publishing original analyses that provide insights into socio-economic issues with the help of data. CEDA's data portal provides concise, easy to understand data summaries with the help of a sophisticated back-end architecture that cross-references various public datasets. The data portal also provides high quality, interactive data visualisations. CEDA's own analysis of various issues is published in the form of "Data Narratives" or as "Picture This", which inform the reader using data visualisations. CEDA also publishes bulletins in partnership with CMIE which look at changes in employment and consumer sentiments in the country. CEDA's analysis is regularly featured in media and its members write commentary regularly for newspapers or news websites. CEDA also helped organise the prestigious Infosys Prize Lecture by Professor Raj Chetty of Harvard University as part of the CEDA Lecture Series. CEDA recently released a Daily Food Prices Index, along with a tool to track daily prices at the commodity and city level, along with real time updated data on commodities traded in all agricultural markets (mandi) in the country. CEDA will continue to provide valuable tools for researchers and students besides publishing its data-rich analysis of current socio-economic issues.

Centre for Climate Change and Sustainability

The Centre for Climate Change and Sustainability (3CS) is a unique multidisciplinary centre at Ashoka University. The centre grew out of a shared concern for the future of our planet and the environment across many disciplines in the University. 3CS is committed to awareness, advocacy and research on issues of climate change and sustainability, especially in the context of India. Towards this end, 3CS will harness the full range of Ashoka University's research and policy expertise, led by Ashoka's larger intellectual community of scholars, researchers, and teachers. It welcomes student initiatives in the areas of its interest. 3CS focuses on communicating the urgency of issues through imaginative use of social media, blogs, podcasts and targeted advocacy campaigns. 3CS encourages and supports cutting edge research of an interdisciplinary nature on issues such as understanding climate change in the past, the role of climate change in enhancing disease spread, the economic impacts of climate change, communications around climate change and sustainability, as well as issues of environmental justice will all be important components of research at 3CS.

Centre for Interdisciplinary Archaeological Research (CIAR)

The Centre for Interdisciplinary Archaeological Research is a unique institutional initiative for creating a state-of-the-art facility which brings archaeology and the sciences together in order to offer new perspectives that will deepen the study of the Indian past. The idea is faculty-driven and is a consequence of a sustained and serious conversation between historians, archaeologists and biologists. As a consequence of this cross-fertilization, it hosts two components which support each other: field based work, along with the teaching of archaeology-based courses, and laboratories supporting teaching and research. There is a strong emphasis on teaching interdisciplinary courses ranging from archaeology and science to one that is locality-based ('Sonipat: Sites and Sights'). Simultaneously, a large field project on the archaeological heritage of forests is underway under the aegis of the Centre, in the Bandhavgarh National Park and Tiger Reserve in Madhya Pradesh. The Centre also funds fellowships for ancient and medieval history/archaeology. All of this – the teaching, research and laboratory work – aims to impart knowledge of the diverse and rich landscapes of premodern India through the lens of archaeology and science.

Centre for China Studies

The Ashoka Centre for China Studies (ACCS) was established to achieve the following goals: to build China Studies at Ashoka University as an interdisciplinary area studies program with a strong commitment to disciplinary depth and language learning; to become a leading institute on China-related research and collaboration; and foster a greater understanding of China across academic, policy-making, and public audiences in India. Towards that end, ACCS affiliates at Ashoka are conducting research on topics as varied as nineteenth-century Tibetan borderlands, material culture in early modern Yunnan, contemporary urban religious practices, and medieval Buddhist literature.

Over the past two years, the ACCS, in conjunction with various departments at Ashoka, has introduced Mandarin language classes (taught by Jhe-Chin Shao) and launched a number of courses such as: Towards Understanding Chinese Politics (Shivshankar Menon), Wealth and Inequality in China, 1500 to the Present (Eloise Wright), and Borderlands: Towards a Spatial History of Empire (Sayantani Mukherjee). These courses and programs have garnered strong interest and support from students, faculty, and scholars alike. This sustained interest has led to the creation of its minor in China Studies, which will be launched in the Monsoon Semester 2022 and is open to undergraduate students at Ashoka University. The Minor in China Studies will include an expanded mandarin language course and feature new courses such as Introduction to Early Chinese Philosophy (Tatyana Kostochka) and Religion and Politics in Modern China (Daniel Murray).

In accordance with its outward-facing mission, ACCS has developed research and language-focussed programmes such as the China Studies Postdoctoral Fellowship (CSPF), the China India Visiting Scholars Fellowship (CIVS), the Mandarin Language Teaching Programme (MALTEP) and the Mandarin Language Scholars Programme (MLP). ACCS not only welcomes student engagement with coursework and undergraduate research, but also applications for internships and proposals for extra-curricular activities.

Ashoka Centre for Translation

The Ashoka Centre for Translation (ACT) is established with a view to foster, nurture, and foreground India's multilingual ethos. It hopes to unlock knowledge and aid its dissemination through translation. Given the urgency to make knowledge available and democratic, the Centre does not confine itself only to English. In fact, it aims to translate material from many Indian languages into many other Indian languages, including English. Thus, the received binaries of (one) source and (one) target do not characterise the aims of the Centre. A range of texts from literary and popular, political and scientific, and oral and written domains—all of these are important to the Centre's vision.

Through the Centre, Professors Rita Kothari and Arunava Sinha would like to invite, mentor, and train aspiring translators, thereby expanding the community of practitioners and students of translation at Ashoka and beyond. The Centre's activities will also be accompanied by theoretical reflections emerging from the act of translating in a multilingual society. Since its establishment in December 2021, the Centre has launched ongoing projects like Translating Bhakti; Ek Gaana, Kayi Zabaan; and Women Translating Women, with many other initiatives and collaborations currently underway or in planning.

Any existing body already functioning with the same objective (like the Gender Sensitization Committee Against Sexual Harassment (GSCASH)) should be reconstituted as the ICC;
- Provided that in the latter case the HEI shall ensure that the constitution of such a Body is as required for ICC under these regulations. Provided further that such a Body shall be bound by the provisions of these regulations;
- (j) "protected activity" includes reasonable opposition to a practice believed to violate sexual harassment laws on behalf of oneself or others such as participation in sexual harassment proceedings, cooperating with an internal investigation or alleged sexual harassment practices or acting as a witness in an investigation by an outside agency or in litigation;
- (k) "sexual harassment" means-

- (i) "An unwanted conduct with sexual undertones if it occurs or which is persistent and which demeans, humiliates or creates a hostile and intimidating environment or is calculated to induce submission by actual or threatened adverse consequences and includes any one or more or all of the following unwelcome acts or behaviour (whether directly or by implication), namely:-

 - Any place visited by the employee or student arising out of or during the course of employment or study including transportation provided by the Executive Authority for undertaking such journey for study in HEIs.

3. Responsibilities of the Higher Educational Institution- (1) Every HEI shall,-

- Wherever required, appropriately subsume the spirit of the above definitions in its policy and regulations on prevention and prohibition of sexual harassment against the employees and the students, and modify its ordinances and rules in consonance with the requirements of the Regulations;
- publicly notify the provisions against sexual harassment and ensure their wide dissemination;
- organise training programmes or as the case may be, workshops for the officers, functionaries, faculty and students, as indicated in the SAKSHAM Report (Measures for Ensuring the Safety of Women and Programmes for Gender Sensitization on Campuses) of the Commission, to sensitize them and ensure knowledge and awareness of the rights, entitlements and responsibilities enshrined in the Act and under these regulations;
- act decisively against all gender based violence perpetrated against employees and students of all sexes recognising that primarily women employees and students and some male students and students of the third gender are vulnerable to many forms of sexual harassment and humiliation and exploitation;
- publicly commit itself to a zero tolerance policy towards sexual harassment;
- reinforce its commitment to creating its campus free from discrimination, harassment, retaliation or sexual assault at all levels;
- create awareness about what constitutes sexual harassment including hostile environment harassment and quid pro quo harassment;
- include in its prospectus and display prominently at conspicuous places or Notice Boards the penalty and consequences of sexual harassment and make all sections of the institutional community aware of the information on the mechanism put in place for redressal of complaints pertaining to sexual harassment, contact details of members of Internal Complaints Committee, complaints procedure and so on. Any existing body already functioning with the same objective (like the Gender Sensitization Committee Against Sexual Harassment (GSCASH)) should be reconstituted as the ICC; Provided that in the latter case the HEI shall ensure that the constitution of such a Body is as required for ICC under these regulations. Provided further that such a Body shall be bound by the provisions of these regulations;

- (i) inform employees and students of the recourse available to them if they are victims of sexual harassment;
- (j) organise regular orientation or training programmes for the members of the ICC to deal with complaints, steer the process of settlement or conciliation, etc., with sensitivity;
- (k) proactively move to curb all forms of harassment of employees and students whether it is from those in a dominant power or hierarchical relationship within HEIs or owing to intimate partner violence or from peers or from elements outside of the geographical limits of the HEI;
- (l) be responsible to bring those guilty of sexual harassment against its employees and students to book and initiate all proceedings as required by law and also put in place mechanisms and redressal systems like the ICC to curb and prevent sexual harassment on its campus;
- (m) treat sexual harassment as a misconduct under service rules and initiate action for misconduct if the perpetrator is an employee;
- (n) treat sexual harassment as a violation of the disciplinary rules (leading up to rustication and expulsion) if the perpetrator is a student;
- (o) ensure compliance with the provisions of these regulations, including appointment of ICC, within a period of sixty days from the date of publication of these regulations;
- (p) monitor the timely submission of reports by the ICC;
- (q) prepare an annual status report with details on the number of cases filed and their disposal and submit the same to the Commission.

3.2 Supportive measures.—(1) The rules, regulations or any such other instrument by which ICC shall function have to be updated and revised from time-to-time, as court judgments and other laws and rules will continue to revise the legal framework within which the Act is to be implemented.

(2) The Executive Authority of the HEIs must mandatorily extend full support to see that the recommendations of the ICC are implemented in a timely manner. All possible institutional resources must be given to the functioning of the ICC, including office and building infrastructure (computers, photocopiers, audio-video, equipment, etc.), staff (typists, counselling and legal services) as, well as a sufficient allocation of financial resources.

(3) Vulnerable groups are particularly prone to harassment and also find it more difficult to complain. Vulnerability can be socially compounded by region, class, caste, sexual orientation, minority identity and by being differently abled. Enabling committees must be sensitive to such vulnerabilities and special needs.

(4) Since research students and doctoral candidates are particularly vulnerable the HEIs must ensure that the guidelines for ethics for Research Supervision are put in place.

(5) All HEIs must conduct a regular and half yearly review of the efficacy and implementation of their anti-sexual harassment policy.

(6) All Academic Staff Colleges (now known as Human Resource Development Centres (HRDCs) and Regional Centres for Capacity Building (RCCBs) must incorporate sessions on gender in their orientation and refresher courses. This should be across disciplines, and preferably mainstreamed using the UGC SAKSHAM Report which provides indicative modules in this regard.

(7) Orientation courses for administrators conducted in HEIs must have a module on gender sensitization and sexual harassment issues. Regular workshops are to be conducted for all sections of the HEI community.

(8) Counselling services must be institutionalised in all HEIs and must have well trained full-time counsellors.

(9) Many HEIs having large campuses have a deficit in lighting and are experienced as unsafe places by the institutional community. Adequate lighting is a necessary aspect of infrastructure and maintenance.

(10) Adequate and well trained security including a good proportion or balance of women security staff is necessary. Security staff must receive gender sensitization training as a part of conditions of appointment.

(11) HEIs must ensure reliable public transport, especially within large campuses between different sections of the HEI, hostels, libraries, laboratories and main buildings, and especially those that do not have good access for day scholars. Lack of safety as well as harassment is exacerbated when employees and students cannot depend on safe public transport. Reliable transport may be considered by HEIs to enable employees and students to work late in libraries, laboratories and to attend programmes in the evenings.

(12) Residential HEIs should accord priority to construction of women's hostels. For the growing population of young women wishing to access higher education, hostel accommodation is desirable in both urban and rural areas and at all levels of higher education which provides a modicum of protection from harassment of all kinds.

(13) Concern for the safety of women students must not be cited to impose discriminatory rules for women in the hostels as compared to male students. Campus safety policies should not result in securitization, such as over monitoring or policing or curtailing the freedom of movement, especially for women employees and students.

(14) Adequate health facilities are equally mandatory for all HEIs. In the case of women this must include gender sensitive doctors and nurses, as well as the services of a gynaecologist.

(15) The Women's Development Cells in colleges shall be revived and funded to be able to carry out the range of activities required for gender sensitization and remain autonomous of the functioning of anti sexual harassment committees and ICCs. At the same time they shall extend their activities to include gender sensitization programmes in consultation with ICCs and help to disseminate anti-sexual harassment policies on campuses on a regular basis. The 'cultural' space and the 'formal academic space' need to collaborate to render these workshops innovative, engaging and non-mechanical.

(16) Hostel Wardens, Provosts, Principals, Vice Chancellors, Legal Officers and other functionaries must be brought within the domain of accountability through amendments in the rules or Ordinances where necessary.

4. Grievance redressal mechanism.—(1) Every Executive Authority shall constitute an Internal Complaints Committee (ICC) with an inbuilt mechanism for gender sensitization against sexual harassment. The ICC shall have the following composition:-

- (a) A Presiding Officer who shall be a woman faculty member employed at a senior level (not below a Professor in case of a university, and not below an Associate Professor or Reader in case of a college) at the educational institution, nominated by the Executive Authority;

Provided that in case a senior level woman employee is not available, the Presiding Officer shall be nominated from other offices or administrative units of the workplace referred to in sub-section 2(o);

Provided further that in case the other offices or administrative units of the workplace do not have a senior level woman employee, the Presiding Officer shall be nominated from any other workplace of the same employer or other department or organization;”

- (b) two faculty members and two non-teaching employees, preferably committed to the cause of women or who have had experience in social work or have legal knowledge, nominated by the Executive Authority;
- (c) Three students, if the matter involves students, who shall be enrolled at the undergraduate, master's, and research scholar levels respectively, elected through transparent democratic procedure;
- (d) one member from amongst non-government organisations or associations committed to the cause of women or a person familiar with the issues relating to sexual harassment, nominated by the Executive Authority.

- (2) At least one-half of the total members of the ICC shall be women.

- (3) Persons in senior administrative positions in the HEI, such as Vice- Chancellor, Pro Vice-Chancellors, Rectors, Registrar, Deans, Heads of Departments, etc., shall not be members of ICCs in order to ensure autonomy of their functioning.

- (4) The term of office of the members of the ICC shall be for a period of three years. HEIs may also employ a system whereby one-third of the members of the ICC may change every year.

- (5) The Member appointed from amongst the non-governmental organizations or associations shall be paid such fees or allowances for holding the proceedings of the Internal Committee, by the Executive Authority as may be prescribed.

- (6) Where the Presiding Officer or any member of the Internal Committee:

- (a) contravenes the provisions of section 16 of the Act; or
- (b) has been convicted for an offence or an inquiry into an offence under any law for the time being in force is pending against him; or
- (c) he has been found guilty in any disciplinary proceedings or a disciplinary proceeding is pending against him; or
- (d) has so abused his position as to render his continuance in office prejudicial to the public interest, such Presiding Officer or Member, as the case may be, shall be removed from the Committee and the vacancy so created or any casual vacancy shall be filled by fresh nomination in accordance with the provisions of this section.”

5. Responsibilities of Internal Complaints Committee (ICC) - The Internal Complaints Committee shall:

- (a) provide assistance if an employee or a student chooses to file a complaint with the police;

- (b) provide mechanisms of dispute redressal and dialogue to anticipate and address issues through just and fair conciliation without undermining complainant's rights, and minimize the need for purely punitive approaches that lead to further resentment, alienation or violence;
- (c) protect the safety of the complainant by not divulging the person's identity, and provide the mandatory relief by way of sanctioned leave or relaxation of attendance requirement or transfer to another department or supervisor as required during the pendency of the complaint, or also provide for the transfer of the offender;
- (d) ensure that victims or witnesses are not victimised or discriminated against while dealing with complaints of sexual harassment; and
- (e) ensure prohibition of retaliation or adverse action against a covered individual because the employee or the student is engaged in protected activity.

6. The process for making complaint and conducting Inquiry – The ICC shall comply with the procedure prescribed in these Regulations and the Act, for making a complaint and inquiring into the complaint in a time bound manner. The HEI shall provide all necessary facilities to the ICC to conduct the inquiry expeditiously and with required privacy

7. Process of making complaint of sexual harassment - An aggrieved person is required to submit a written complaint to the ICC within three months from the date of the incident and in case of a series of incidents within a period of three months from the date of the last incident.

Provided that where such complaint cannot be made in writing, the Presiding Officer or any Member of the Internal Committee shall render all reasonable assistance to the person for making the complaint in writing:

Provided further that the ICC may, for the reasons to be accorded in the writing, extend the time limit not exceeding three months, if it is satisfied that the circumstances were such which prevented the person from filing a complaint within the said period."

Friends, relatives, Colleagues, Co-students, Psychologist, or any other associate of the victim may file the complaint in situations where the aggrieved person is unable to make a complaint on account of physical or mental incapacity or death.

8. Process of conducting Inquiry- (1) The ICC shall, upon receipt of the complaint, send one copy of the complaint to the respondent within a period of seven days of such receipt.

(2) Upon receipt of the copy of the complaint, the respondent shall file his or her reply to the complaint along with the list of documents, and names and addresses of witnesses within a period of ten days.

(3) The inquiry has to be completed within a period of ninety days from the receipt of the complaint. The inquiry report, with recommendations, if any, has to be submitted within ten days from the completion of the inquiry to the Executive Authority of the HEI. Copy of the findings or recommendations shall also be served on both parties to the complaint.

(4) The Executive Authority of the HEI shall act on the recommendations of the committee within a period of thirty days from the receipt of the inquiry report, unless an appeal against the findings is filed within that time by either party.

(5) An appeal against the findings or /recommendations of the ICC may be filed by either party before the Executive Authority of the HEI within a period of thirty days from the date of the recommendations.

(6) If the Executive Authority of the HEI decides not to act as per the recommendations of the ICC, then it shall record written reasons for the same to be conveyed to ICC and both the parties to the proceedings. If on the other hand it is decided to act as per the recommendations of the ICC, then a show cause notice, answerable within ten days, shall be served on the party against whom action is decided to be taken. The Executive Authority of the HEI shall proceed only after considering the reply or hearing the aggrieved person.

(7) The aggrieved party may seek conciliation in order to settle the matter. No monetary settlement should be made as a basis of conciliation. The HEI shall facilitate a conciliation process through ICC, as the case may be, once it is sought. The resolution of the conflict to the full satisfaction of the aggrieved party wherever possible, is preferred to purely punitive intervention.

(8) The identities of the aggrieved party or victim or the witness or the offender shall not be made public or kept in the public domain especially during the process of the inquiry.

9. Interim redressal-The HEI may,

- transfer the complainant or the respondent to another section or department to minimise the risks involved in contact or interaction, if such a recommendation is made by the ICC;
- grant leave to the aggrieved with full protection of status and benefits for a period up to three months;
- restrain the respondent from reporting on or evaluating the work or performance or tests or examinations of the complainant;
- ensure that offenders are warned to keep a distance from the aggrieved, and wherever necessary, if there is a definite threat, restrain their entry into the campus;
- take strict measures to provide a conducive environment of safety and protection to the complainant against retaliation and victimisation as a consequence of making a complaint of sexual harassment.

10. Punishment and compensation- (1) Anyone found guilty of sexual harassment shall be punished in accordance with the service rules of the HEI, if the offender is an employee.

(2) Where the respondent is a student, depending upon the severity of the offence, the HEI may,-

- withhold privileges of the student such as access to the library, auditoria, halls of residence, transportation, scholarships, allowances, and identity card;
 - suspend or restrict entry into the campus for a specific period;
 - expel and strike off name from the rolls of the institution, including denial of readmission, if the offence so warrants;
 - award reformatory punishments like mandatory counselling and, or, performance of community services.
- (3) The aggrieved person is entitled to the payment of compensation. The HEI shall issue direction for payment of the compensation recommended by the ICC and accepted by the Executive Authority, which shall be recovered from the offender. The compensation payable shall be determined on the basis of-
- mental trauma, pain, suffering and distress caused to the aggrieved person;
 - the loss of career opportunity due to the incident of sexual harassment;
 - the medical expenses incurred by the victim for physical, psychiatric treatment;
 - the income and status of the alleged perpetrator and victim; and
 - the feasibility of such payment in lump sum or in instalments.

11. Action against frivolous complaint.—To ensure that the provisions for the protection of employees and students from sexual harassment do not get misused, provisions against false or malicious complaints have to be made and publicised within all HEIs. If the ICC concludes that the allegations made were false, malicious or the complaint was made knowing it to be untrue, or forged or misleading information has been provided during the inquiry, the complainant shall be liable to be punished as per the provisions of sub-regulations (1) of regulations 10, if the complainant happens to be an employee and as per sub-regulation (2) of that regulation, if the complainant happens to be a student. However, the mere inability to substantiate a complaint or provide adequate proof will not attract attention against the complainant. Malicious intent on the part of the complainant shall not be established without an inquiry, in accordance with the procedure prescribed, conducted before any action is recommended.

12. Consequences of non-compliance.—(1) The Commission shall, in respect of any institution that will fully contravenes or repeatedly fails to comply with the obligations and duties laid out for the prevention, prohibition and redressal of sexual harassment of employees and students, take one or more of the following actions after providing due notice: -

- (a) withdrawal of declaration of fitness to receive grants under section 12B of the University Grants Commission Act, 1956;
 - (b) removing the name of the university or college from the list maintained by the Commission under clause (f) of section 2 of said Act, 1956;
 - (c) withholding any grant allocated to the institution;
 - (d) declaring the institution ineligible for consideration for any assistance under any of the general or special assistance programmes of the Commission;
 - (e) informing the general public, including potential candidates for employment or admission, through a notice displayed prominently in the newspapers or other suitable media and posted on the website of the Commission, declaring that the institution does not provide for a zero tolerance policy against sexual harassment;
 - (f) recommending the affiliating university for withdrawal of affiliation, in case of a college;
 - (g) recommending the Central Government for withdrawal of declaration as an institution deemed to be university, in case of an institution deemed to be university;
 - (h) recommending the appropriate State Government for withdrawal of status as university in case of a university established or incorporated under a State Act.
 - (i) taking such other action within its powers as it may deem fit and impose such other penalties as may be provided in the University Grants Commission Act, 1956 for such duration of time till the institution complies with the provisions of these regulations.
- (2) No action shall be taken by the Commission under these regulations unless the Institution has been given an opportunity to explain its position and an opportunity of being heard has been provided to it.

Annexure - IV
Ashoka University
Guidelines on Protecting
Freedom of Expression

Ashoka University Guidelines on Protecting Freedom of Expression

1. Introduction

- 1.1 The central purposes of a University are the pursuit of truth, the discovery of new knowledge through scholarship and research, the teaching and general development of students, and the transmission of knowledge and learning to society at large. Free inquiry and free expression within the University community are indispensable to the achievement of these goals. The freedom to teach and to learn depends upon the creation of appropriate conditions and opportunities not only in classrooms and lecture halls but also on the campus as a whole.
- 1.2 Since rigid codification and relentless administration of rules and regulations are not appropriate to a University community, the guidelines that follow serve mainly to clarify commonly accepted standards of conduct within the University. The University community referred to above consists of every person associated with the University, whether a student, faculty, administrative staff or other employees and contractual workers.

2. Scope of These Guidelines

- 2.1 These Guidelines govern the conduct of: University students, regardless of enrolment status; faculty; staff; and third parties to the extent of their interaction with the University (i.e., non-members of the University community, such as vendors, alumni/ae, visitors, or local residents).
- 2.2 Third parties are both protected by and subject to these Guidelines. A third party may make a complaint or report of a violation of these Guidelines committed by a member of the University community.
- 2.3 These Guidelines apply to conduct that occurs on University property (i.e., on campus) and also applies to conduct that occurs off University property (i.e., off campus) when the conduct is associated with a University-sponsored program or activity, such as travel, research, or internship programs or when such conduct may have a continuing adverse effect or could create a hostile environment on campus. Judgments about these matters will depend on facts of an individual case.
- 2.4 These Guidelines also apply to the use of university infrastructure.

3. Academic Integrity

- 3.1 The ability of the University to achieve its purposes depends upon the quality and integrity of the academic work that its faculty, staff, and students perform. Academic freedom can flourish only in a community of scholars that recognizes that intellectual integrity, with its accompanying rights and responsibilities, lies at the heart of its mission. Observing honesty in one's work, words, and actions is a principle to which all members of the community are required to subscribe.

4. Statement on Freedom of Expression

- 4.1 Because the University is committed to free and open inquiry in all matters, it guarantees all members of the University community the broadest possible latitude to speak, write, listen, challenge, and learn. Except insofar as limitations on that freedom are necessary to the functioning of the university, as detailed in section 4.2, Ashoka University fully respects and supports the freedom of all members of the University community to discuss any problem that presents itself. The ideas of different members of the University community will often and quite naturally conflict. But it is not the proper role of the University to attempt to shield individuals from ideas and opinions they find unwelcome, disagreeable, or even deeply offensive except when it violates norms of mutual respect as detailed in section 5.1.

- 4.2 The freedom to debate and discuss the merits of competing ideas does not, of course, mean that individuals may say whatever they wish, wherever they wish. The University may restrict expression that violates the law, that falsely defames a specific individual, that constitutes a genuine threat of or incitement to violence or harassment, or that unjustifiably invades substantial privacy or confidentiality interests. In addition, the University may reasonably regulate the time, place, and manner of expression to ensure that it does not disrupt the ordinary activities of the University. But these are narrow exceptions to the general principle of freedom of expression, and it is vitally important that these exceptions never be applied in a manner that is inconsistent with the University's commitment to a completely free and open discussion of ideas.
- 4.3 In a word, the University's fundamental commitment is to the principle that debate or deliberation may not be suppressed because the ideas put forth are thought by some or even by most members of the University community to be offensive or immoral. Indeed, fostering the ability of members of the University community to engage in such debate and deliberation in an effective and responsible manner is an essential part of the University's educational mission.
- 4.4 As a corollary to the University's commitment to protect and promote free expression, members of the University community must also act in conformity with the principle of free expression. Although members of the University community are free to criticize and contest the views expressed on campus, and to criticize and contest speakers who are invited to express their views on campus, they may not obstruct or otherwise interfere with the freedom of others to express views they reject or even loathe. To this end, the University has a solemn responsibility not only to promote a lively and fearless freedom of debate and deliberation, but also to protect that freedom when others attempt to restrict it.

5. Respect for Others

- 5.1 As an intellectual community, Ashoka attaches great value to freedom of expression and vigorous debate, but it also attaches great importance to mutual respect, and it deplores expressions of hatred directed against any individual or group. Respect for the rights and sensibilities of each other is essential in preserving the spirit of community at Ashoka. Actions that make the atmosphere intimidating, threatening, or hostile to individuals are therefore regarded as serious offenses. Abusive or harassing behaviour, verbal or physical, which demeans, intimidates, threatens, or injures another because of personal characteristics or beliefs or their expression, may be subject to University disciplinary procedure. Examples of personal characteristics or beliefs include but are not limited to sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, race, ethnicity, national origin, religion, and disability. The University calls on all its members to display the appropriate sensitivity and to challenge expressions of racial, gender or ethnic bias whenever they encounter them.

6. Peaceful Dissent, Protests, and Demonstrations

- 6.1 Free speech and peaceable assembly are basic requirements of the University as a centre for free inquiry and the search for knowledge and insight. These rights involve a concurrent obligation on the part of all members of the University, guests, and visitors to maintain on the campus an atmosphere conducive to scholarly pursuits and to respect the rights of all individuals.
- 6.2 In view of Ashoka's obligation to promote the free expression of all views, the campus is open to any speaker whom students or members of the faculty have invited and for whom official arrangements to speak have been made with the University. The right of free speech in a university also includes the right to acts of peaceful dissent, protests in peaceable assembly, orderly demonstrations, and the distribution of leaflets.
- 6.3 These are permitted on the Ashoka campus, subject to approval from the University administration as to schedule and location only. In asking groups and individuals to seek prior approval for schedule and location, the University's goal is not to restrict free speech or peaceable assembly. Rather, it is to give the University the opportunity to provide space that accommodates the reasonable needs of both the University community and those engaged in acts of speech or protest.
- 6.4 The University reserves the right to determine the time, place, and manner of all such activities. Whenever appropriate, the Office the VC or Pro-VC, with assistance from and in consultation with appropriate departmental heads, will designate clearly marked areas for protests and demonstrations. The University reserves the right to refuse permission to use a particular area for protests or demonstrations.
- 6.5 It is a violation of these Guidelines whenever any individual prevents, or wilfully attempts to prevent, the orderly conduct of a University function or activity, such as lectures, meetings, interviews, ceremonies, and public events; or blocks, or wilfully attempts to block, the legitimate activities of any person on the campus or in any University building or facility.
- 6.6 Whenever a member of the University community violates these Guidelines, that individual will be subject to University discipline. Decisions to invoke University disciplinary action in the course of a protest or demonstration will be made after due warning and such decisions will be made by officers of the University. A third party may also be permanently barred from the University or subject to other restrictions for failing to comply with these Guidelines.

7. Political Campaigning

- 7.1 Members of the University community, as individuals and groups, have the right to exercise their freedom of expression and association. Under law, however, the University may not “participate in, or intervene in any political campaign on behalf of (or in opposition to) any candidate for [any] public office” and “no substantial part of the activities” of the University may be directed to influencing legislation. The University may not endorse, or provide or solicit financial or other support for, candidates or political organizations.

8. Ashoka University Name, Marks, and Seal

- 8.1 No individual or organization may use the University’s name, logos, restricted images, or other identifiers (“marks”), or any marks that suggest Ashoka University or any department, school or centre of Ashoka University except to the extent such individual or organization has been authorized by the proper University officials or as permitted under trademark law. The Pro-Vice Chancellor of the University is responsible for the general oversight and administration of the University’s trademark policies.
- 8.2 The above stipulation shall not apply to an academic work submitted for publication by any person to whom these Guidelines apply, such as an article in a peer-reviewed academic journal, an independent monograph, or as part of a collection of works.
- 8.3 Encouragement of an interest in public affairs and the furtherance of a sense of social responsibility have long been considered important elements of a liberal arts education. The University continues to consider self-chosen participation in political and social action by individuals and groups to be a valuable part of the educational experience it seeks to encourage. Such activities on the part of individuals or groups do not, and should not be taken to, imply commitment of the University to any partisan political position or point of view. As such, for articles, opinion pieces, quotations, and/or appearances in the popular media or in other public events such as political, social or religious gatherings or organised functions, it is understood that the views held by the author or participant are personal and not those of the university.
- 8.4 All written materials that take the form of petitions, letters of protest, or declarations should have prominent disclaimers as headers and footers, examples of which follow below:

“We the undersigned, speaking in our individual capacity....”

“The views expressed above are those of the signatories alone and do not reflect those of Ashoka University.”
- 8.5 The use of the seal of the University on publications, manufactured articles, and the like is prohibited, except when specifically authorized by the University. Applications for such authorization must be made to the Registrar of the University.

9. Computer and Network Use

- 9.1 Ashoka University makes available to its community members electronic and digital data and network resources, including shared information technology resources that use text, voice, images, and video to deliver information. These resources are to be used in a manner consistent with University policy and the law.

- 9.2 All uses of the University's information technology and network resources are subject to the regulations and policies set forth by the University administration. The IT policy document also provides information regarding copyright and other laws that are potentially applicable to certain uses of the University's IT and digital resources and network access. Members of the University community are expected to be familiar with and adhere to the regulations thus defined. Members of the University community who engage in any illegal or fraudulent use of the University's information technology resources, including infringement of copyright-protected materials, may be subject to disciplinary action, including the termination or suspension of network privileges.
- 9.3 All actions by a member of the University community that involve the use of the University's computing and network resources from a remote location, including but not limited to accessing email accounts, will be deemed to have occurred on campus.
- 9.4 Regulations governing use of the University's name and property and political activities and community use of University resources also apply to use of the University's information technology resources.
- 9.5 Members of the University community may not use University IT and network resources for commercial (including consulting) purposes, unless they have received permission to do so from the University Administration; rather, they should use information technology resources, Internet service providers, and computer hosts outside the University.
